

Running container: docker run image

The container, described by the image, is created...

Running command within the container: docker run image bet running bet within the container

Mounting a local directory: docker run -v ~/data:/data image bet /data/file output docker run -v ~/ds....:/data -v ~/output:/output image bet /data/file output

running bet within the container on image from the local directory and saving output in the local directory

Running an interactive session: docker run -it image opening an interactive session within the container

